Towards a New Deal by Rob Davies

9781776190935 | Jonathan Ball Publishers | TPB | R300

Towards a New Deal offers an insider account on the evolution of trade and economic policy in South Africa over the last 25 years from one of government's most articulate and former senior members. Beginning in the early 1970s leading up to the current Ramaphosa era, Rob Davies gives in-depth insight into the politics, policies, and inner workings of the South African government. He concludes with a chapter on the 'new dawn' focusing primarily on the impacts of COVID-19 and the extremely challenging period that lies ahead. Told with intriguing anecdotes and, in parts, with the author's own very personal and humanising history of activism and time spent in exile, this memoir presents a strong case for economic change.

Gunship Ace by AL J. Venter

9781612009438 | Jonathan Ball Publishers | TPB | R290

A former South African Air Force pilot who received a Honoris Crux during the Border War and later became a private military contractor, Neall Ellis is one of South Africa's best-known combat aviators. He participated in several major Border War operations, including Operation Protea, Super and Meebos. Apart from flying Alouette helicopter gunships in Angola, he has fought in the Balkan War (for Islamic forces) and tried to resuscitate Mobutu Sese Seko's ailing air force during his final days ruling the Congo. In war-torn Sierra Leone Ellis played a major role in the late 1990s and early 2000s in the fight against the rebel forces of Foday Sankoh. Twice he single-handedly turned the enemy back from the gates of Freetown, effectively preventing the rebels from overrunning the capital.

Hitler's Spies by Evert Kleynhans

9781776190201 | Jonathan Ball Publishers | TPB | R275

The story of the intelligence war in South Africa during the Second World War is one of suspense, drama and dogged persistence. In 1939, when the Union of South Africa entered the war on Britain's side, the German government secretly reached out to the political opposition, and to the leadership of the anti-war movement, the Ossewabrandwag. The Nazis' aim was to spread sedition in South Africa and to undermine the Allied war effort. Soon U-boat packs were sent to operate in South African waters, to deadly effect. With the help of the Ossewabrandwag, a network of German spies was established to gather important political and military intelligence and relay it back to the Reich.

Native Boy: Confessions Of A Maplazini In The City by Thabo A. Molefe
9781776190249 | Jonathan Ball Publishers | BPB | R250

As a child, Thabo Abram Molefe, along with his family, is impelled into the apartheid-era tradition of rural-to-urban transition. Moving from a farm to a multi-ethnic and vibrant township in the heart of Heidelberg, the birthplace of Eugene Terre'Blanche's AWB, proves to be both a challenge and an adventure as he works to evade the nickname that has followed him as a result – 'maplazini', Sotho for dumb country bumpkin. This book explores a young man's complex relationship with identity and race, seen through the lens of township life. Moreover, it is about his journey to escape the socio-economic trap of the apartheid regime to forever limit the black man to a life of hardship.

Fortunes: The Rise And Rise Of Afrikaner Tycoons by Ebbe Dommissé
9781868427543 | Jonathan Ball Publishers | TPB | R310

The past three decades have seen a remarkable rise of Afrikaners in business. In light of the government's comprehensive black economic empowerment programme this has been one of the unexpected features of the South African economy. Today many of these Afrikaner tycoons are competing internationally. With Koos Bekker at its helm, media group Naspers began dominating the JSE and was turned into a global consumer internet group. Johann Rupert strongly extended Richemont's share internationally in the upper-end market of luxury goods, while Christo Wiese and Whitey Basson at Pepkor and Shoprite became Africa's largest clothing and food retailers. Fortunes describes how these and other business leaders, such as Jannie Mouton, Michiel le Roux, Douw Steyn, Roelof Botha, Hendrik du Toit and a number of commercial farmers, built their empires.

Fortune: Die wel en wee van Afrikaner-magnate by Ebbe Dommissé
9781868427567 | Jonathan Ball Publishers | TPB | R310

'n Ongekende opkoms van Afrikaner-magnate het die Suid-Afrikaanse ekonomie die afgelope drie dekades gekenmerk. Dit is veral merkwaardig in die lig van die regering se omvattende program van swart ekonomiese bemagtiging. Vandag ding talle van hulle internasionaal mee. Onder leiding van Koos Bekker het Naspers die Johannesburgse aandelebeurs begin domineer en is die mediagroep omvorm tot 'n internasionale beleggingshouergroep. Johann Rupert het Richemont in die naasgrootste groep in die mark vir luukse goedere gevestig, terwyl Christo Wiese en Whitey Basson onderskeidelik Pepkor en Shoprite tot Afrika se grootste kleinhandelgroepe in klerasie en voedsel uitgebou het. Fortune verduidelik hoe hierdie en ander sakeleiers, waaronder Jannie Mouton, Michiel le Roux, GT Ferreira, Laurie Dippenaar, Roelof Botha, Hendrik du Toit en 'n aantal megaboere, hul sakeryke tot stand gebring het.

Hustling, Happiness And A Blow-Up Doll Named Percy by Dale Hefer
9781776190249 | Jonathan Ball Publishers | BPB | R250

What do the knees of a deputy president, a blow-up doll and a model with big nipples have in common? They all taught the author valuable life lessons. This book tells moving personal stories from Dale Hefer's life: from an award-winning marketing career culminating in becoming businesswoman of the year to her ongoing battle with alcohol and provides key lessons and essential life and business tips. For example, why everyone needs a 'Percy' (a creative idea or simply the drive to do what one must to get things done). In addition to her own conclusions, Dale draws on the wisdom of her favourite philosophers – the Stoics, business partners, friends and, of course, her mum! Using real-life experiences and humorous stories, Dale shows how to make some sense of this strange world.

Sparks Like Stars by Nadia Hashimi
9780063057166 | HarperCollins | TPB | R305

Aryana Shepherd is a survivor. Born Sitara Zalmani, she was daughter of a prominent and cosmopolitan family in Kabul, her beloved father the right hand of President Daoud, Afghanistan's progressive leader. But in 1978, when Sitara is only ten years old, the President and dozens of others were assassinated when armed men invaded the lavish Arg Palace. Sitara's family was there. Only Sitara survived. Smuggled out of the palace by Shair, a soldier who may have murdered her family, Sitara finds her way to the home of a female American diplomat, and from there to the US. Adopted and raised as the diplomat's daughter, Sitara changes her name and eventually becomes Dr. Aryana Shepherd, an overachieving surgeon who has never fully reckoned with the trauma of her past.

Victor Alderheim has a lot to answer for. Not only has he heartlessly tricked his young ex-wife, Jenny, out of her art gallery inheritance, but he has also abandoned his son, Kevin, to die in the middle of the Kenyan savanna. It doesn't occur to Victor that Kevin might be rescued and adopted by a Maasai medicine man, or that he might be expected to undergo the rituals expected of all new Maasai warriors which have him running back to Stockholm as fast as you can say circumcision without anaesthetic. Back in Stockholm, Kevin's path crosses with Jenny's and they have an awful lot to talk about, not least a shared desire to get even with Victor.

Girl in the Walls by A.J. Gnuse
9780008381035 | HarperCollins | TPB | R330

Elise knows every inch of the house. She knows which boards will creak. She knows where the gaps are in the walls. She knows which parts can take her in, hide her away. It is home, after all. The home her parents made for her. And home is where you stay, no matter what. Eddie calls the same house his home. Eddie is almost a teenager now. He must no longer believe in the girl he sometimes sees from the corner of his eye. He needs her to disappear. But when his older brother senses her, too, they are faced with a question: how do they get rid of someone they aren't sure even exists? And, if they cast her out, what other threats might they invite in?

What's Mine and Yours by Naima Coster
9781398703339 | Orion | TPB | R355

When a county initiative in the Piedmont of North Carolina forces the students at a mostly black public school on the east side to move across town to a nearly all-white high school on the west, the community rises in outrage. For two students, quiet and aloof Gee and headstrong Noelle, these divisions will extend far beyond their schooling. As their paths collide and overlap over the course of thirty years, their two seemingly disconnected families begin to form deeply knotted, messy ties that shape the trajectory of their lives. On one side of the school integration debate is Jade, Gee's steely, single, black mother, grieving for her murdered partner. On the other, is Noelle's enterprising mother, Lacey May, who refuses to see her half-Latina daughters as anything but white.

Happy Sexy Millionaire by Steven Bartlett
9781529393255 | Hodder & Stoughton | TPB | R355

As an 18-year-old, black, broke, lonely, insecure, university drop-out, from a bankrupt family, I wrote in my diary that I wanted to be a 'Happy Sexy Millionaire' by the age of 25. By 25 I was a multi-millionaire having created a business worth over $300m dollars. Ironically, in achieving everything I set out to, I learnt that I was wrong about almost everything. The world had lied to me. It lied to me about how you attain fulfilment, love and success, why those things matter, and what those words actually mean. We are losing ourselves. We're chasing the wrong things, asking the wrong questions, and polluting our minds. It is time to stop, it's time to resist and it's time to rethink the fundamental social blueprint that our lives are built upon.

The Soul of a Woman by Isabel Allende
9781526630810 | Bloomsbury | HB | R330

As a child, Isabel Allende watched her mother, abandoned by her husband, provide for her three small children. As a young woman coming of age in the late 1960s, she rode the first wave of feminism. She has seen what has been accomplished by the movement during her lifetime. And over the course of three marriages, she has learned how to grow as a woman while having a partner, when to step away, and the rewards of embracing one's sexuality. So, what do women want? To be safe, to be valued, to live in peace, to have their own resources, to be connected, to have control over their bodies and lives, and above all, to be loved.

Keep Sharp by Dr Sanjay Gupta

In Control by Jane Monckton-Smith
9781526613202 | Bloomsbury | TPB | R330

There is a domestic violence epidemic happening right now, yet as a society we still turn a blind eye to it. In a culture that has normalised misogyny, we determinedly cling to the belief that domestic violence is a private matter in which both parties bear some responsibility. Even our legal system legitimises the idea that people who hurt or kill their partners have snapped and lost control, committed a 'crime of passion'. But domestic violence has a clear pattern. Jealousy. Controlling behaviour. Stalking. Verbal abuse. A history of violence. Specialising in homicide, stalking and coercive control, internationally renowned forensic criminologist and former police officer Jane Monckton-Smith has spent decades researching domestic violence cases that have ended in homicide.

The Pronoun Lowdown by Nevo Zisin
9781925811803 | Smith Street Books | HB | R295

We find ourselves at an exciting moment in history. For the first time, trans and gender diverse people are being seen and heard. Thanks to tireless activism, and an increased visibility worldwide, these lived experiences (the joyful, and the painful) are no longer able to be ignored. And so, The Pronoun Lowdown is here to demystify and celebrate trans and gender diverse excellence. Woven together with author Nevo Zisin's own pronoun journey, this colourful hardback shed light on the complicated history of gender around the world, in language and across time. Nevo shares their ideas for how young trans and gender diverse folk might begin to navigate their identities, as well as simple suggestions for friends and family on how to provide the best support possible.

The Rare Metals War by Guillaume Pitron
9781912854264 | Faber Factory Plus | TPB | R420

The green-tech revolution will reduce our dependency on nuclear power, coal, and oil, heralding a new era free of pollution, fossil-fuel shortages, and cross border tensions. But there is a hidden dark side to this seemingly utopian vision. In this international bestseller, award-winning journalist and documentary-maker Guillaume Pitron reveals that, by breaking free of fossil fuels, we are in fact setting ourselves up for a new dependence on rare metals such as cobalt, gold, and palladium. These are essential to electric vehicles, wind turbines, and solar panels, as well as our smartphones, computers, tablets, and other technologies. But we know very little about rare metals meanwhile, China has captured the lion's share of the market and is using it to consolidate its position as a leading global power.

The Fear-Fighter Manual by Luvvie Ajayi Jones
9781529409024 | Quercus | TPB | R310

Luvvie Ajayi Jones is known for her trademark wit, warm voice, and exceptional integrity. But even she's been challenged by the enemy of progress known as fear. She was once afraid to call herself a writer because she was afraid of the title. She nearly skipped out on doing a TED talk that changed her life because of imposter syndrome. We're all afraid. We're afraid of asking for what we want because we're afraid of hearing "no." We're afraid of being different, of being too much or not enough. We're afraid of leaving behind the known for the unknown. But in order to do the things that will truly, meaningfully change our lives, we have to become professional troublemakers.

Beyond Bad by Chris Paley
9781529327090 | Hodder & Stoughton | HB | R355

This is the of thinking about ethics: it's a call for abolishing the whole caboodle. He uses evolutionary psychology to show how and why morality emerged: they enabled our forebears to survive and prosper in tribal groups. Today, our morals constrain us, bias us, and push us in the wrong direction. The biggest challenges our species faces, whether global warming, nuclear proliferation or the rise of the robots, are pan-human. These challenges are beyond what our moral minds were designed to cope with. You can't build smartphones with stone-age axes, and you can't solve modern humanity's problems with tools that are designed to create primitive, competitive groups.

The Six Secrets of Intelligence by Craig Adams
9781785786525 | Icon | TPB | R245

So many books, apps, courses, and schools compete for our attention that the problem isn't a lack of opportunity to sharpen our minds, it's having to choose between so many options. And yet, more than two thousand years ago, the greatest thinker of Ancient Greece, Aristotle, had already discovered the blueprint of the human mind. Despite the fact that the latest cognitive science shows his blueprint to be exactly what sharpens our reasoning, subtlety of thought, and ability to think in different ways and for ourselves, we have meanwhile replaced it with a simplistic and seductive view of intelligence, education and the mind.

The Handshake by Ella Al-Shamahi
9781788167802 | Profile | HB | R275

Friends do it, strangers do it and so do chimpanzees and it's not just deeply embedded in our history and culture, it may even be written in our DNA. The humble handshake, it turns out, has a rich and surprising history. So, let's join paleoanthropologist Ella Al-Shamahi as she embarks on a funny and fascinating voyage of discovery from the handshake's origins (at least seven million years ago) all the way to its sudden disappearance in March 2020. Drawing on new research, anthropological insights, and first-hand experience, she'll reveal how this most friendly of gestures has played a role in everything from meetings with uncontacted tribes to political assassinations and what it tells us about the enduring power of human contact. Because the story of the handshake ... is far from over.

Liftoff by Eric Berger
9780008445638 | HarperCollins | TPB | R380

SpaceX has enjoyed a miraculous decade. Less than 20 years after its founding, it boasts the largest constellation of commercial satellites in orbit, has pioneered reusable rockets, and in 2020 became the first private company to launch human beings into orbit. Half a century after the space race SpaceX is pushing forward into the cosmos, laying the foundation for our exploration of other worlds. But before it became one of the most powerful players in the aerospace industry, SpaceX was a fledgling start up, scrambling to develop a single workable rocket before the money ran dry. The engineering challenge was immense; numerous other private companies had failed similar attempts. And even if SpaceX succeeded, they would then have to compete for government contracts with titans.

The Second Life of Tiger Woods by Sarah Davidson
9781982122843 | Simon & Schuster | TPB | R370

Tiger Woods's long descent into a personal and professional hell reached bottom in the early hours of Memorial Day in 2017. Woods's DUI arrest that night came on the heels of a desperate spinal surgery, just weeks after he told close friends he might never play tournament golf again. His mug shot and alarming arrest video were painful to look at and, for Woods, a deep humiliation. The former paragon of discipline now found himself hopelessly lost and out of control, exposed for all the world to see. That episode could have marked the beginning of Tiger's end. It proved to be the opposite. Instead of sinking beneath the public disgrace of drug abuse and the private despair of a battered and ailing body, Woods embarked on the long road to redeeming himself.

Baked to Perfection by Katarina Cermelj
9781526613486 | Bloomsbury | HB | R655

Baked to Perfection begins with a thorough look at the gluten-free baking basics: how different gluten-free flours behave, which store-bought blends work best, and how to mix your own to suit your needs. Covering cakes, brownies, cookies, pastry and bread in turn, Katarina shares the best techniques for the recipes in that chapter, and each recipe is accompanied by expert tips, useful scientific explanations and occasional step-by-step photography to help you achieve gluten-free perfection. From proper crusty bread, pillowy soft cinnamon rolls and glorious layered cakes to fudgy brownies, incredibly flaky rough puff pastry and delicate patisserie - everything that once seemed impossible to make gluten-free can now be baked by you.

The definitive and first vegan guide to intermittent fasting for improved health with over 80 plant-powered recipes to keep you fuller for longer and build your immune system in the process. Intermittent fasting has emerged as an evidence-based revolution in health and wellness. In the popular 16:8 method, you eat 2 to 3 times over 8 hours, then fast for 16 hours (which, of course, includes time spent asleep). The results can be astounding weight loss, a stronger immune system, increased longevity and so much more. Let Petra Bracht, General Practitioner and Naturopath, and recipe developer Mira Flatt guide you through the transition to a fasting lifestyle, with medically supported advice, a 14-day meal plan with accompanying exercises, and over 80 satisfying vegan recipes including ideas for breakfast, lunch, dinner, and dessert.

Sumac: Recipes and stories from Syria by Anas Atassi
9781911668107 | Murdoch Books | HB | R560

Modern-day Syrian dishes vary immensely, from those that seem Mediterranean, that have Turkish or Armenian flavours, or that are kept simple and subtle. But one shared ingredient through all these cultures and influences is Sumac. This deep-red spice is the 'red thread' that connects every dish and is the red thread that will guide you through this book. A tribute to his homeland, this exquisitely photographed cookbook full of recipes that have been passed down through time. Featuring everything from the wonderful Friday breakfasts Anas often ate in his grandmother's garden and his mother's Sfeeha (small savoury pies) to za'atar flatbread, batata harra (spicy potatoes), Sayadiyah (spicy fish pilaf with caramelised onions) and Zahra (spicy roasted cauliflower) which he enjoys making for his friends.

The Shortcut Cook by Rosie Reynolds
9781784883515 | Hardie Grant | HB | R310

It's a myth that to make the very best versions of classic dishes, they have to be prepared from scratch. It's actually a well-known fact in the food industry that chefs have always used shortcuts. But home cooks have not always had the same privilege. From her extensive experience, Rosie has distilled over 60 classic recipes, such as eggs Benedict, spaghetti and meatballs and lemon meringue pie, and applied every time-saving tip, flavour boost and genius twist that she has to produce failsafe recipes. This book is here to make your life in the kitchen bolder, brighter and a whole lot easier. These are world-over favourites that people love to eat and aspire to cook, ready in a flash.

Winefulness by Amelia Loveday
9781784727093 | Octopus | HB | R195

Cancel the hot yoga and pick up a cool Pinot Grigio, sometimes all you need is a nice glass of wine. Through the good times and the bad, it is always there to pick you up and it's always got your back. So, enjoy this collection of wine wisdom for the soul, and learn to view the world through rosé-tinted glasses. As the old saying goes, where there's a wine there's a way. Includes inspiration such as: It isn't wise to keep things bottled up. No Champagne, no gain. Life is a Cabernet, after all. Every cloud has a Syrah lining. Do things for the right Rieslings.

Together by Luke Adam Hawker
9780857839442 | Octopus | HB | R405

Used to drawing out on location, the lockdown of 2020 suddenly limited artist Luke Hawker's day to day work. Like many of us he spent months at home, and, unable to go out and about found himself inspired to depict the day-to-day effects of the extraordinary challenges unfolding across the world. Together takes a gentle and philosophical look at the events of 2020. Using the metaphor of a monumental storm, we follow a man and his dog through the uncertainty and change that it brings to their lives. Through their eyes we see the difficulties of being apart, the rollercoaster of emotions that we have all shared, and the realisation that by pulling together we can move forward with new perspective, hope, and an appreciation of what matters most in life.

Harry: The Unauthorized Biography by Danny White
9781789292756 | Michael O'Mara | HB | R225

From the start of his career, we follow the roller coaster of emotions as One Direction broke up, and we learn how Harry reinvented himself. Free from the shackles of being in a boyband he was able to be the rock star he had always dreamed of being. Not content with being one of the world's biggest popstars, Harry has also cultivated a career as a film and television star, featuring in box-office hits like Dunkirk as well as presenting Saturday Night Live. He is also making a name for himself as fashion royalty, presenting the fashion event of the year and regularly modelling for iconic brand Gucci. He has even partnered with the meditation app Calm to record a story designed to help listeners drift off.
